MOBILIZING JUSTICE STUDENT TRAVEL AWARD APPLICATION

Postdoctoral fellows and graduate students funded by Mobilizing Justice are eligible to apply for a student travel award. We will provide a partial award up to $1,000 for Canadian travel and $2,500 for international travel. Eligible travel includes presenting MJ research at a conference (travel, hotel, and registration fees) or for MJ-related research travel (site visits, visiting a research team at another institution, etc.).

Please email your completed application to mj.utscc@utoronto.ca. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis. Please note that as funds are limited, a student travel application does not guarantee an award. Applications will be reviewed by the UTSC based leadership team within 30 days of submission.

Program Details:

Award Requirements:

- Mobilizing Justice's logos and support must be acknowledged in oral/poster presentations, posters, or any resulting publications.
- Conference registration fees, travel, ground transportation, accommodations and meals are eligible expenses.
- You must have an accepted poster or oral presentation for conference travel awards.
Exceptions may apply.*
- Each student is limited to one travel award per year.
- Priority will be given to students who have not yet received travel funding, as well as those applying from working groups that have not yet sought student travel funding.
- Students may receive partial awards to ensure all applicants receive some support.

Submission of Expenses:

- Travel Awards are processed as reimbursements. Award recipients must pay registration fees and travel expenses, and then request reimbursement from the University of Toronto.
- Travel arrangements must follow current University of Toronto policy.
- The processing of expense reimbursements takes six to eight weeks.
